Dear Ms. Rustad, Ms. Smyth, and Ms. Wetherald:

Please accept my belated thanks for your letter and for sending along the two books on women in academia. I very much appreciate your taking the time to share your research on this important issue.

I have shared the materials with Professor Grosz and Professor Hammonds, the leaders of the two task forces we have assembled to discuss the advancement of women faculty at Harvard. I know they will be glad to have the additional information, and that they will be grateful for your generous offer to be of assistance.

Best wishes,
